The plan for this meeting is to extend the conversation started last month regarding vaping, use, cause and effects. Adin Miller, CEO of the LAMVCF (Community Foundation) will be leading the discussion with 2 guests from Stanford's REACH Lab about how to get the community behind the youth mental health issues.

We are looking for a lively conversation, as the folks in the room are quite knowledgeable about this work. How do we get to the next level and solve some of these issues given all the resources at our disposal, including businesses, political leads as well as the schools and non-profit health related organizations?

Please come with your questions, insights and resources to add to the conversation
